

Black Lives Matter/Questions to What We Are

Before we get started, you must understand, all lives matter. At the same time Black lives need to be respected and appreciated.

Are we a group of individuals that don't exist?

Or

An existing group season back our existence

What are we?

Are we inferior due to our skin?

Or

Are they in fear really because of our skin?

What are we?

Are we targeted for target practice by the treacherous?

Or

Are we tremendously tempted to traumatize the treacherous with tremendous tenacity to take what we truly deserve?

Which is:

R Respect

O Opportunity

B Balance

That spells out ROB!

We are being robbed of ROB! Ironic that we are the ones with the stigma of being robbers.

You know what:

We are robbers!

We rob society of their books and knowledge so we can become mentally wealthy.

We do lie! We lie our bodies in the land of deceit where we prevail against all adversity.

We do kill! We kill all competition because we're dedicated to the top.

The fact that we are Black coincides with the fact that we are back

Back on our duty of claiming our throne

Because we are Kings and Queens that shall never be overthrown

So what are we

We are a group of individuals with minds of our own

Black Lives Matter!
